

Common Model

In the Common section of the model you can find general elements that you will need throughout the modeling process of your application.

Common Model Base Elements

Deployment

The Deployment model allows you to define the model versions and database upgrade scripts between those versions.

Features

Features allow you to define parts of the model that can be unlocked by an individual customer.

String Library

String Library allows full localization of the model in different languages. Error messages and other texts can be defined and stored there.
